January 17th Wiki Update

On January 17th, the iCommons team released a small update to the Harvard Wiki. This update addressed two issues:

- If a user has a “Listing/Display” name defined in LDAP, this name will now show in the Wiki. Previously, only the user's official name would display.
- All themes will now show correct indentation in the left navigation.

For a list of remaining known issues, click here.