

Harvard Library Digital Preservation Services Wiki

Harvard Library established the Digital Preservation Program in June 2008, building on years of digital preservation projects and initiatives conducted at Harvard University. The centerpiece of the preservation program is Harvard Library's digital preservation repository, the Digital Repository Service (DRS).

Please select one of the links below for more information:

- Digital Repository Service \(DRS\)
 - Digital Preservation Services
 - Format Assessments
 - Projects and Initiatives
 - Preservation Tools
 - Presentations and Events
-

For questions about Digital Preservation Services or this wiki, please email Tricia Patterson.

Related websites:

- Library Portal for Digital Preservation
- LTS wiki for DRS tools and support
- Internal working area wiki for Digital Preservation