About LTS

Library Technology Services (LTS) is a Harvard University Information Technology (HUIT) unit that provides systems and support to the Harvard Library. LTS plans and develops the library technology portfolio and maintains reliable enterprise library applications to facilitate search, discovery, and access to knowledge. LTS also designs solutions to enable creation of world-class scholarly collections through acquisition, collaboration, and digital repository services.

LTS Website (HL Staff Website)

LTS Service Areas

LibAnswers Statistics